CAN WE EXIST ALONE?

In a world where space has been annihilated by fast transportation and instantaneous communication, can any nation exist alone, remote from others?

Most economists answer with a decisive "No" to this. They point out that the problems of all peoples are much the same, that a brotherhood of purpose is more necessary than ever before, that world cooperation is vital and only to economic recovery but to the future maintenance of international prosperity.

They believe that good and liberalized foreign relations, acting as the basis for stimulated trade between countries, holds the hope of the future.

There are sound grounds for believing that. The collapse of American export trade which was caused as much by tariff wars and embargoes as by hard times has closed hundreds of factories. It has thrown thousands of men out of work. It has caused bond defaults and lost dividends. It has made itself felt in every business and retarded purchasing power and industrial expansion.

We cannot sell to other lands unless they want the products of American factories, the automobiles, typewriters, tractors and similar machines products we make. They can buy them if we buy products of theirs that we need. This does not mean that we should subject American factories to cheap-labor foreign competition—but it does mean that all the phases of the problem of foreign trade need overhauling and readjustment.

I'd Rather Read Poetry
BY HENRY DAVIS NADIG

December
Something dies with each December,
Something more than the last year;
It's the ashes on the ember,
There is something solemn here.

It's not just the falling
Of the wind among the trees;
All the little leaves are falling,
And the earth is on her knees.

Draw the curtains, light a candle,
And the night is on the stairs;
I have heard a ghostly sound,
Tapping, tapping on the stairs.

Something infinitely dear,
Something infinitely dear;
But it's more than just a year,
It's a vision of the future here.

—Vivian Yelverton Laramore,
in "Flamingo"

Platitudes and Florida
Two slim volumes with which I am convinced this week are from the house of Henry Harrison and are among many good books which that publisher is bringing out in the field of poetry. Those which I have examined thus far exhibit great originality and power on the part of the poets behind the verse, but show how wide is the interest in poetry.

"Twilight" by Elizabeth MacVitt is good, refreshing poetry. The poet seems to be just so many platitudes made more unmistakable by the continual employment of the cliché. I find no originality whatsoever in these lines, no beauty of tone, no depth nor richness in mood, no fine shading of words and phrases into new or glowing meanings. The poet seems content to restate in practically the same words the observations of the poet in previous combinations as "cool stream,"
"gray shadows," "sun-kissed sea,"
"calm and sweet," "slowly seeking rest," "angels whisper," "life's well-worn path," "yearning heart," "stormy deep," "earthly woes" and others too numerous to mention appear (often duplicated) throughout these poems. Also, there are many locutions which have no place in poetry at all, at least not in their application here. A few lyrics contain the germ of what must have been a good idea, but the completion of the poem in each case usually failed to leave a profound impression of any underlying beauty. I can not find one poem really worth quoting, except to show the quality of the whole. In "Pigeons" the reader will observe the sense of triteness which the words convey, rather than a heightening of experience which the poet should achieve.

With heads erect and haughty mien,
Each robed in coat of blue and green,
They strut across the lawn so green,
In search of crumbs from dawn to dusk;
And though they're graced by their food,
Their manners are quite crude.

Their stockings are of pink and tan
And always they are short on the part;
But like some men they gobble, gobble,
Until they find it hard to wobble;
For men and pigeons are alike,
And each a rather greedy bird.

The other of the two volumes impresses me more. The title seems well chosen for the poet writes much of the state of Florida in this book "Flamingo" Vivian Yelverton Laramore is the poet laureate of Florida and in this book she shows her love and knowledge of that state.

Many of these poems are of a higher quality than were verse and some of them are extremely beautiful. The poet seems content to express herself to the utmost degree in communicating the natural phenomena of her state, though one finds here no ostentation but the overflowing joy of living experience. Mrs. Laramore has the real poetic sense and often the ability to fashion beautifully in words the experience as seen with the poet's eye. Her love of the wind pervades the spirit of her poetry. It blows a gentle lyric gust or a forceful gale of words according to the poet's mood. This wind-worship is charmingly voiced in "Wind Song."

Had I the wind
In my two hands,
I wouldn't ask
For jeweled sands.
The sun is a red wheel
And the sandy trees,
To the first brown leaf
With dimpled knees;
But the wind, the wind
With its high white song
To me alone
Would the wind belong.
From star to star,
From shrine to shrine,
I would to make
The wind some mine.

Several of this poet's sonnets are well-wrought. The Sonnet on Silence is, especially good and so is Storm at Sea and the sequence Spring Comes to the South.
The sonnet Wild Almond I shall quote in conclusion.

A year away, and then with almond leaves;
Almond I had forgotten their cool look.
It's true I kept a brown one in book
And brushed it with the blessing of my sleeves
Each time I read a verse for Genevieve's
Small ear, but in that dark and inkly book
I placed, as I for laughter of the brook
And all the little songs a south wind weaves.
And now to walk between a colonnade
Of trove trees and feel against my cheek
A rain of starry blue is to persuade
The heart there is no fairer time to seek;
And suddenly I know that home for me
Is where God fits a cool wild almond tree.

NORTH PARIS

School opened Monday morning after a week's vacation.
Mrs. Ada Valentine and daughter have been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. James Gibbs.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stevens are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, born April 8th.
Mrs. Joe Ellingwood was in Albany,
Friday, to attend the funeral of her sister, Mrs. Mae Cummings.
Miss Alice Pierce has been confined to the house with the mumps.
Harlan Childs, Arthur Noyes and Floreston Pierce are working in the mill for the Ellingwoods.

Mrs. Nina Felt spent Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. Wilma Pierce.
Mrs. Blanch Ridley is confined to her house by illness.

Ruth Herrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milford Herrick is recovering from pneumonia.
Mr. and Mrs. Birchard Lowe of Sumner spent Sunday with their father, B. C.
Lowe.

Chester McAllister and friend from Portland were in town one day last week calling on old friends.
Mrs. Ethel Herrick and Shirley Small of West Paris were in town, calling Sunday.

Lois Childs is stopping at West Paris
and working in the mill.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Childs spent Saturday evening at L. J. Trask's.

EAST OXFORD—ROBINSON HILL
John Pike has started his saw mill. He has a lot of custom saving to do. Walter Rowe, Leonard Herrick, Fred Seeliner
and Merion Brown are working for Mr.
Pike.

Amasa Paine still remains very ill.
Charles Strout is very ill with heart trouble.
Oella Maxim of South Paris has been enjoying a week's visit with Mrs. Charles Strout.

Little Frankie Paine was injured badly
by falling from the high beams of John Pike's barn, striking on a wagon in the barn floor, cutting his face in several places.
Elsie Rowe injured her knee badly by falling down stairs.

Howard Records bought a pair of steers
at Ralph Goodwin of Mechanic Falls.
Eddie McMerrin, who works for Charles Strout, was in Oxford, April 3, selling maple syrup.
The roads are so bad that the mail man can only get as far as Sam Dudley's with his car.

PORTER CENTER

George Jordan of Peak's Island has just visited his father, Charles Jordan, for a few days.
Gilman Durgin and wife were in Sun-ford, Sunday, April 2.
The Rawleigh dealer was in this place,
recently.
Helen Durgin spent the evening, April 3, at Charles Jordan's.
Mr. Bachelier was in this place quarantining dogs.
Many in this place are buying baled
hay.
John Hunt is working Percy Morrill's team, hauling logs from the Fred Mason lot.
The Roberts boys are making maple syrup.

BOLSTER'S MILLS

The heavy rains have raised the river to a high pitch and a good part of the ice has gone out.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lombard will go to house keeping soon in their home in the village.
Mrs. Leon Boyce is poorly.
Miss Martha Cunningham visited her brother in Rockport, Mass., a few days of her vacation and visited Miss Cook a few days.

WEST PARIS—TRAP CORNER

The circle met with Mrs. E. L. Gay on Thursday.
Lyndon Brackett took a ride Sunday
in a wheel chair.
Mrs. Mary Hicks has a nice lot of chickens.
Will Haskell has gone back to his home on the hill and Mrs. Haskell has come home from Massachusetts. Mildred Haggerty visited them Saturday and Sunday.
Mark Mills visited his grand-parents,
Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Mills a few days last week.
Mrs. Florence Stuart and Eva Brett, have come from Norway to her home on the hill. It seems good to see the houses opened once more. Mrs. Stuart has spent the winter with Mrs. Ida Hancock.
The Christian Endeavor held its meeting at 2.30 led by Miss Etta Gay and Chester French Jr. sang "The Old Rugged Cross" in a nice manner.

NORWAY - a Good Place to Trade

The FOOT EXPERT Says:

"No woman can be a good pal when her feet hurt."

Stinging, burning, blistering feet will ruin the best nature in the world. Ill-fitting shoes will spoil a dance, a hike, a golf game, or any other enjoyment. Sounds amusing—but it's serious for her when a pleasant girl becomes an irritable companion. Choose shoes that fit correctly, during

FOOT HEALTH WEEK April 17 to 22,

Our Foot Expert will make a Pedo-Graph print of your stockinged feet and make an analysis of them. No charge for this service.

Uncle Zeke and Hulda Visit the Stores

Was mighty busy working up the wood pile in the yard and had the buck saw singing merrily when Hulda delivered an ultimatum from the back door. Confound it, I forgot about Tuesday being gallivanting day! Had to drop everything, put on my best raiment, harness our ten year old, force a smile and team it to Norway Village.

Job also lived with female leadership and faced hard. Anyhow, he escaped shopping trips under leath, which to the average man is a torn in the flesh. Patient old Hulda is a good scout, just the same, and will forgive this explosion of righteous indignation.

At Ashton's the season's wall paper fills many shelves in the back room. Everything is there from the low price common kind to the best grades made for parlors, dining rooms and where grand visitors are entertained. If you can't make a selection in person, a postal card will bring you valuable information and a sample book. Hulda was flattered when she was urged to dress up the house for the rich relatives due every summer.

L. Fred Pike at the Blue Store has some of the noblest Easter ties made by Cheney. All silk, in exclusive patterns, and made to the fit without getting stringy or botched as some do. Shades are both dark and light, some are dark red, others have the Persian effects. One dollar takes one. Not long ago the price for similar ties was dollars more. Nice shirts are priced from 65c to $1.50.

Everything at the E. N. Swett Shoe Co. is ready for National Foot Health Week, April 17 to 22. A foot print will be made and analyzed free to all who suffer from broken arches or other foot complaints. New dress shoes have arrived, both pumps and ties. Men can get something worthwhile at $2, $2.50 and $3.50. Ladies have a choice of $1.95 and $3.00.

Hulda being paint-minded, dropped in at Stone's where Devore and Reynolds' stock is being cleared out at move-fast prices. The stock was lowered since our call last week and some colors were not obtainable. What we looked over were the real goods and a bargain. No alibi these times for dingy woodwork while paint prices are so low.

At the Merchant Store new coats, suits and dresses arrived this week in season for the Easter coming out. Every garment is a new spring model, some are the swaggy style, others more sedate for women like Hulda, who lean toward the conservative fashions. A line of figured dress goods suggesting summer, can be worked with Butterick patterns into inexpensive creations. Naturally, Hulda went wild over the new silk unites.

The McAllister Store is ready for holiday trade. A special Easter breakfast will be served Sunday and a tasty menu furnished. Lunches will be served all hours during Sunday and Sunday evening. Easter plants occupy one window and before Saturday a display of lilies is expected. The pure white blooms will be priced low.

Easter is emphasized in the windows at the James Smith Shoe Store, just the footwear for Sunday is shown in a variety of styles. What we looked over is a strap tie with fits-on heels. When the top lifts run over, pull them off, swap 'em over, or put on new ones. This convenient black kid tie is marked $3.95. Men can have Easter Oxfords in brown or black for $3 and $4.

Coats we didn't see last week are at the Fred S. Brown store. They arrived while Hulda was examining Easter accessories as stockings, scarfs and gloves. Guess she plans to attend services in the village, Sunday, if purchases indicate anything. Speaking about coats, they are the spring and summer styles and fabrics, in tans, light greens and midly blue. Stylish print dresses, in color combinations, look attractive for coming warm weather.

The Norway Furniture Co. is selling a Goodrich rubber door mat, 18x36, for 49c. It won't slip because of a non-slip back. So long as the supply lasts, a large rose trolley is given away with every quart of garden paint, 80c quart. Paint comes in white, light and dark green.

SOUTH OTISFIELD

Mr. and Mrs. Charles returned to their home, Friday, from Massachusetts. Bert Holden has been helping Fred Brooks repair his blacksmith building. Mrs. Fred Fowler called to see Mrs. Carrie Brooks, Thursday. Mrs. Brooks is sick. Mrs. Anna Baker called, Friday, to see Mrs. Charles Scribner, at Mayberry Hill. Miss Daisy Ames remains very poorly. Harry Stone has finished moving to Scribner's Hill. Howard Ames has some very nice cows at Scribner's.

CASCO-COOK'S MILLS

Elliot Allen of Harrison is visiting his uncle, Almon Littlehale. Roger Nutting cut down two large trees in his back yard this week, one was 12 feet across the stump and was very dangerous as it was split and leaned on its base. Mr. and Mrs. James Buzzell and son, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell, Herbert Meserve and James Potts called on L. A. Perham Tuesday. Mrs. Edith Racine and son Ralph of Portland spent the day, Thursday, at her aunt, Mrs. Mabel Jordan. Mr. and Mrs. Almon Littlehale and Mrs. Allen were in Portland, Tuesday. The Littlehales are under quarantine here. George Wilbur called at Mabel Jordan's, Thursday. Mrs. Edith Racine and Mrs. Flora Allen called on Mrs. Ada Abbott, Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Forest Nutting have been working for Ross Edson on the state road. Tommy Tenney was sick with a bad cold, unable to attend school several days this week.

FRYEBURG-TOLL BRIDGE

Kenneth Fraser hauled wood two days last week for Percy Coombs, Frank and Ed Hill. Fraser had a severe attack of rheumatism last week. A doctor was called, but he is at present. Kenneth Fraser and Percy Coombs are cutting it. Kenneth Fraser spent Saturday evening at home, Sunday. Almon Hill was a Sunday visitor at Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hill. Kenneth Fraser has had parsnips from his garden. The snips grew well and all of them are of the great size, still in the depth of two feet. Mrs. Hill and Edna Durgin are attending school on account of illness. Almon Hill is ill, also. The boys are tramping up and down the hills, but are not meeting with much luck. The parsnips are scarce this spring. Kenneth Fraser sawed wood for Myron Tenney, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Hill and daughter called on Mr. Herbert McAllister one day last week. He also called on Mrs. Roland McAllister.

She leaves nine small children, the youngest at two weeks old twins. Mr. and Mrs. Birchard Lowe and Mrs. Ellingwood were in Norway, Sunday. Mrs. Ellingwood was returned to West Paris after having spent the winter at her father's. Mrs. Ellingwood is ill. Mrs. Ellingwood's death at her home in North Paris, Monday, April 10th. Mrs. Walter Chandler spent Sunday at her daughter, Mrs. Ruby Emery. Mrs. Charles Roberts and daughter, Mrs. Ellingwood, called on Mrs. Ellingwood's, Saturday.

SUMNER

Lewis Thomas
The remains of Lewis Thomas, who passed away in a Brockton Hospital, were brought to Hartford, Monday, for burial in the family lot. Mr. Thomas was born November 27th, 1871, son of the late Lewis and Julia (Cummings) Thomas. He was born in Hartford and spent his childhood in that town. He was one of a family of six children. Two brothers, Merrill and Sullivan, passed away several years ago. Three sisters, Mrs. Mary Matthews, Mrs. Mae Smith of White Plains, Mass., and Mrs. Ery Varney of this town, survive, also several nieces and nephews. Mr. Thomas was married several years ago, his wife passed away about two years ago.

EAST HARTFORD

There were no services at the church Sunday, on account of bad traveling. Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Riley of Livermore Falls visited their father, J. C. Marston, who is ill, Sunday. Earl Bryant is building a cottage on his father's place, where the house was burned. George Randall moved last week to East Witton. J. W. Mahoney had the misfortune to lose one of his best team horses last week.

NEWRY CORNER

School opened Monday in Hanover, after a vacation of two weeks. Walter Vail, Upton stage driver, arrives here mornings now around six o'clock, instead of at nine as on winter schedule. There will be a whist party at the Grange Hall, Friday night, April 14. Senator Alton Bartlett is at home from his duties in Augusta. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Thompson and daughter Verna of Bethel were in town, recently. Mr. Knapp of Bethel, the newly appointed stage driver for the Hanover stage route, substituted for Mr. Wheeler one day last week. WEST PARIS-TRAP CORNER
Elroy Dean visited his son, Henry, and family, at South Paris, Thursday night. Mrs. Verna Stevens called at Earle Treavor's Tuesday morning, on her way to Freeport to see her daughter, Mrs. Henry Cummings. Elwood Pierce, Melford Perham and Merle Dean were in Lewiston one day last week. Miss Alma Mikkonen is at home from Farmington for her Easter vacation. David Jilson and family were at G. L. Briggs', Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Emery, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Davis, attended Pomona Grange at Welchville, Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Berry of Wyman Dam spent the week end at A. K. Emery's. OTISFIELD-SPURR'S CORNER

Mrs. Ruth Adams will go to Portland this week, where she will undergo surgery at the Maine General Hospital. Elmer Latup has his new mill operating and is now sawing lathes. Mr. and Mrs. Jason Little spent Friday and Saturday at Walter Chute's in Harrison. Mr. Little's parents lost their house and contents by fire on Thursday, last week, and are staying at Mr. Chute's. In the wind blow of Wednesday, last week, a large maple tree branch near F. J. McAllister's was broken off and barely escaped striking the house. A limb broke part of a window and also glass was broken in one of the Grange Hall windows. Will Meserve and team have finished work for Mr. Pratt at Scribner Hill and returned to J. M. Meserve's. Harry Cole is working at Norway and staying there through the bad traveling. Lawrence Hanson took the annual valuation last week, for the town. Dell Knight, William Ash, Lawrence Hanson and Jason Little went to So. Otisfield, Thursday, and returned with twelve togoes. The continued failure to open the Pi-dellity and Casco Mercantile Trust Co.'s is working great hardship on this and surrounding towns. There being no work for a long period of time here and being unable to draw funds, some are in need of food, grain, etc. It would seem some provision must be made very soon for these necessities. At the town clerk's office last week, Mrs. Sadie Farrar was drawn to serve on the Jury at Portland for the April term of court. Will Meserve carried Lawrence Spiller's express to Bolster's Mills, Saturday, as a truck could not go through the mud on the road.
